

Bohdan Lishchenko

Front-End developer

I'm positive, active and adaptive member of the team. Stubborn in achieving the final result, responsible, assiduous, ready to perform complex work and learning new technologies. I've been creating single page applications on React and JavaScript for a year now. Also practicing web layout design more than a year. I strive to become a successful Front-end developer. My main goal is to become a great team lead in the future.
